About WTC's Broodmare Compatibility Analysis

You are to be congratulated on your choice of the most technologically advanced pedigree mating analysis available in the industry. It combines the decades of experience accumulated by WTC's pedigree staff, with the power of the Werk Nick Rating® and the newly available LyonScore® pedigree information technology.

The LyonScore technology differs in two essential ways from the familiar nick ratings available at WTC's website, eNicks.com. Whereas a nick rating measures the effectiveness of a stallion's male line when crossed with the male line of a mare, the LyonScore system focuses, in the first place, on the stud record of an individual sire. This alone makes it much more precise than a nick rating can be. Secondly, it analyzes the sire's stud record with respect to mares representing individual ancestors contained in a mare's entire six-generation ancestry, including females. It answers the question, how well has the sire done with other mares representing one or more of the respective ancestors of the subject mare? And it answers that question for all of her ancestors within six generations.

Additionally, the LyonScore technology can assess a stallion's stud record with mares representing a certain combination of ancestors found among those of the subject mare. Also, the LyonScore system can tell if a sire is effective with male strains of a given ancestor, but ineffective with female strains, or vice-versa. The system addresses these and many other important, even crucial, issues that otherwise would not even arise.

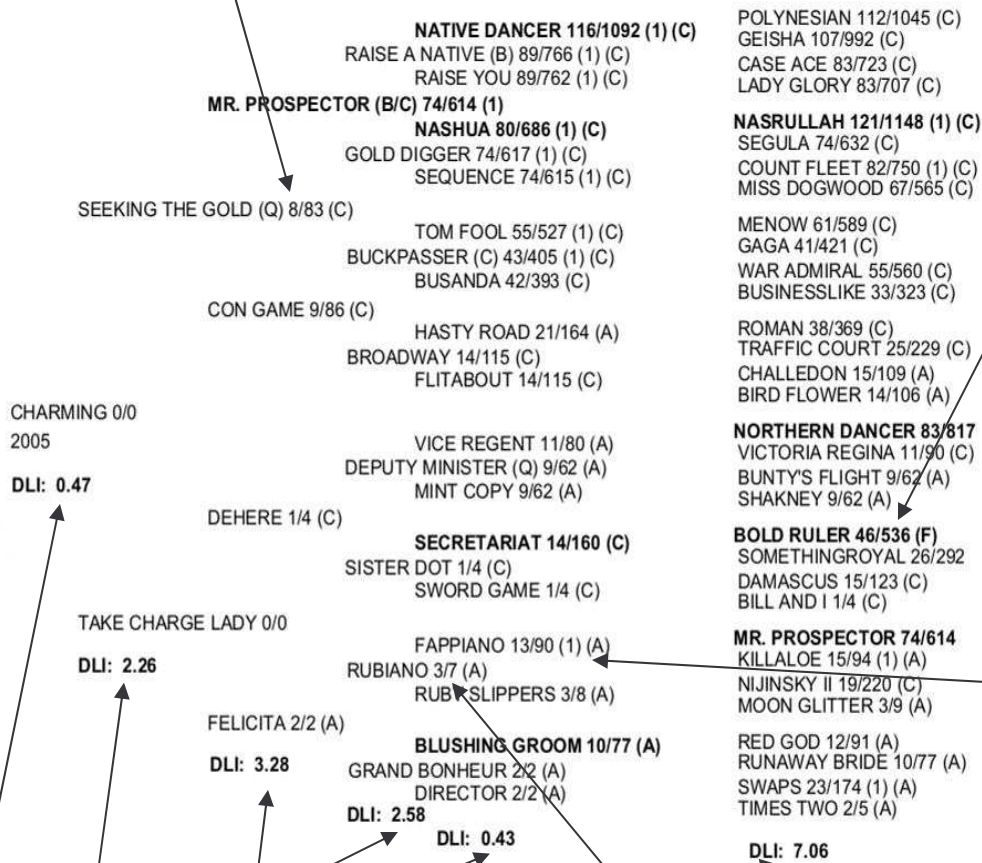

One last thing. In 2011 WTC introduced a new variant of its famous nick rating called GeoNicks®. It differs from our global nick rating in the sense that it isolates three major racing environments--North America, Europe, and Australasia--in such a way as to determine the effectiveness of crosses within those respective regions. GeoNicks is able to determine the regional value of a cross that otherwise appears tepid in a global sense because poor performance in one region cancels out its positive effects elsewhere. The GeoNicks provided in this report are otherwise available only at eNicks.com

LyonScore profiles comprehensively assess an individual sire's compatibility with a mare based on the relation of her breeding to that of the dams of his superior runners. Giant's Causeway's strike rates with ancestors of the dam of 2014 BC Juvenile Fillies winner, Take Charge Brandi, are shown below.

Seeking the Gold is a C ancestor for Giant's Causeway because with mares that have Seeking the Gold in their ancestries Giant's Causeway gets superior runners at an average frequency—8 superior runners from 83 mares.

Superior runner is defined as the winner of an unrestricted North American stakes or a blacktype-qualifying foreign stakes or runners that finished second in a G1 or G2 stakes, but may not yet be a stakes winner.

Bold Ruler is an F ancestor for Giant's Causeway because 46 superior runners from 536 mares is significantly lower than Giant's Causeway's normal strike rate.

Strike rates are based on a sire's stud record through his current 3yo crop. The number (1) in parentheses means Giant's Causeway has one 2yo superior runner whose dam has Fappiano in her ancestry. That 2yo is not counted in the official strike rate.

The Dam Line Index (DLI) is provided for each of the dams in the female line. It is derived from the number of stakes winners in direct female descent of the dam, divided by her average number of generations removed from those SWs.

Rubiano is an A ancestor for Giant's Causeway because 3 superior runners from 7 mares with Rubiano in their ancestries is significantly better than Giant's Causeway's average.

Charming, the dam of 2014 BC Juvenile Fillies Champion, Take Charge Brandi, compared with other dams of foals by Giant's Causeway

See the upper left-hand corner of the LyonScore profiles

LyonScore® Profile for CHARMING with GIANT'S CAUSEWAY

A-ancestors: 40 F-ancestors: 3

Points: 37

Points are determined by subtracting F-ancestors, with which Giant's Causeway has very low strike rates, from A-ancestors, with which he has high strike rates— $40 - 3 = 37$, in this case. C ancestors do not affect the number of points.

SR Avg: 25.36

Dams of superior runners by Giant's Causeway earn an average of 25.36 Points.

NSR Avg: 3.97

Dams that were tried with Giant's Causeway but failed to produce a superior runner by him earn an average of only 3.97 Points.

Dams scoring higher:

SR Dams: 20 of 126

Of the 126 mares that have produced superior runners by Giant's Causeway, 20 have ancestries that merit more points than Charming.

NSR Dams: 25 of 1087

Only 25 of the 1087 mares that failed to produce a superior runner by Giant's Causeway score more points with him than Charming.

Score: 96

Charming's Score with Giant's Causeway is a percentile rank determined by her Points with Giant's Causeway relative to the population of mares that have produced his foals. Her Score of 96 indicates that only 4% of those mares have ancestries that merit more Points than hers.

I: Stallion Recommendations

Stallion recommendations

Note that in addition to the Werk Nick Rating, we have also included a shorthand LyonScore (LS) grade for eligible sires. These grades range from -2 (worst) to +2 (best). Only stallions with three or more crops have LS profiles, from which these grades are extracted.

Bell's the One

She's an elite mare who can visit any stallion on the planet. Practically speaking, in N. America her choices boil down to Tapit ($185,000), Flightline ($200,000), Gun Runner (Private, but fee is $300,000), and Curlin ($225,000). Into Mischief is not a candidate as she's from the same sire line as he's from and the mating would be 2x3 inbreeding to Harlan's Holiday, and Quality Road has no stakes winners from the Harlan's Holiday branch of Storm Cat.

Bell's the One needs no introduction. Undefeated at 2, and a stakes winner every year from 2 to 6, with 11 stakes wins, five seconds, three thirds, and earnings in excess of $2 million — not bad for a $155,000 yearling buy. She was a G2 winner at 3, a G1 winner at 4, and a dual G2 winner at 5, with G1 placings throughout the years, including in the Breeders' Cup Filly and Mare Sprint in 2020 and as recently as at 6 this year. She displayed a soundness, durability, and consistency at a high-class level that is a rarity these days.

Much like her sire Majesticperfection and her second damsire Dayjur, Bell's the One was a pure sprinter, though unlike many 6-7 furlong horses, she exhibited a come-from-behind tendency that often saw her involved in close finishes. She was led out of the ring unsold for $2.6 million at the recent Fasig-Tipton November sale.

Street Mate (Street Cry), her once-winning dam — in a 5-furlong maiden at Aqueduct — has five other foals of racing age, all winners, including 9 furlong G3SW King Cause (Creative Cause), spw Running Mate (Creative Cause), and current 3yo Skipper Sue (Cairo Prince), winner of her debut in October and second in an allowance in her only other start, both at Laurel. You bought and raced her younger half-sister Summer Mate (Summer Front), a maiden winner at Canterbury, and she sold as a broodmare prospect for $130,000 in November. You also have Street Mate's Collected yearling filly, bought for $200,000 in September. Street Mate has a Not This Time weanling and was bred to Charlatan for 2023.

Street Mate is from a deep but old family developed by Ned Evans, and Nelson Bunker Hunt before that, with GSWs Tap Day, Fairy Garden, and Paladin Bay under Bell's first three dams, and the third dam being a multiple GSW on the turf from a mile and a sixteenth to 11 furlongs.

Bell's the One is one two of G1SWs by Majesticperfection, a son of Harlan's Holiday, who is better known as the sire of Into Mischief. Majesticperfection only raced as a 4yo, with five wins in six starts. He won a G1 and set a track record at Prairie Meadows in his only two stakes attempts, both over 6 furlongs. His other G1 horse was Kentucky Oaks and Ashland winner Lovely Maria, who is now a broodmare in Japan with no winners yet from two foals of racing age. As a broodmare sire, Majesticperfection is represented by two SWs, one each by Upstart (Flatter) and Half Ours (Unbridled's Song).

We know that Bell's the One is very fast and very sound, both characteristics which give her some versatility and add to her desirability as a broodmare.

Tapit ($185,000, +2, A+++) — This is an excellent mating and he gets the highest nick rating. Our A+++ rating on the Tapit/Harlan's Holiday nick is based on having at least one Grade 1 winner on the cross, but the Grade 1 winner in this case comes not from Tapit himself but his son Race Day, the sire of White Abarrio. Another son of Tapit, Tonalist, has G2SW Tonalist's Shape on the cross, and Tapit himself has two G2SWs on the cross. Tapit also has an excellent relationship with Bell's the One's broodmare sire Street Cry, with which he's 3/12. He's also an excellent 4/15 with Street Cry's sire Machiavellian and 4/14 with Troy, Street Cry's broodmare sire. He's 0/5 with Dayjur, the sire of Bell's the One's second dam, but he's 18/160 with Danzig, Dayjur's sire. He's also an excellent 12/117 with The Axe II and has strong strike rates with the rest of Bell's the One's family. Commercially as a covering sire in 2022, he had five mares bring an average price of $1,541,000, but the median price was $500,000.

Flightline ($200,000, +1, A+) — We constructed a special LS model for Flightline, and everything we said about Tapit applies to him as well. By far, he will be the most sought-after horse next year, with one share selling at public auction for $4.6 million. What we like about him is also this: whereas Tapit himself hasn't had a Grade 1 winner on the cross, his son Race Day — far inferior to Flightline — has, and another cheap Tapit son, Tonalist, has a G2SW on the cross, suggesting that Flightline is actually a better match for Bell's the One than his sire. Moreover, Flightline was a better racehorse than Tapit, and he had high-level sprinter speed for 6 furlongs (1:09 and change) going 10 furlongs (1:59 and change and 2:00 and change). He was also a $1 million yearling from a mare that sold for $2.35 million, and the female family is from a long line of mares developed by the Phippses. Should you sell Bell's the One in foal to him next year, he's the most commercial proposition, especially from his first year at stud. On a tossup between father and son, we like him a shade better than Tapit.

Gun Runner ($Pvt, 0+, A) — This cross, unlike the two above, is based on the broader Gun Runner/Storm Cat cross, as there are no stakes winners on the Gun Runner/Harlan's Holiday cross. Though listed as private, his stud fee is $300,000, based in part on some shares selling for $2.5 million. He was the leading first-crop sire last year, and this year his 3yos exploded on the scene, with one of them winning the Preakness and another, Taiba, one of the best 3yos this year. What we don't like about him versus the two above is that he's 0/6 with Street Cry and only 2/28 with Danzig. Also, last year he was the leading sire of 2yos with six black-type winners and two Grade 1 winners, but his second crop this year has yielded no stakes winners yet and he's ranked #36 on the 2yo list — a big drop from last season. As a covering sire, Gun Runner had 14 mares bring an average of $553,929 and a median of $340,000 in 2022.

Curlin ($225,000, 0, A) — Like Gun Runner above, this cross is based on the broader Curlin/Storm Cat combination, instead of Curlin/Harlan's Holiday, because none of Curlin's stakes winners on the cross come through Harlan's Holiday. Moreover, Curlin is 0/6 with Harlan's Holiday and 0/10 with Harlan. He's also 1/8 with Street Cry, 0/6 Dayjur, 12/166 Danzig, and his strike rates with the background of this mare are not as strong as the others. We rate this a "0" on the LS profile (we only recommend 0+, +1, and +2) and do not recommend the mating. As a covering sire, Curlin had six mares bring an average of $1,630,833 with a median of $1,650,000 in 2022.
